What is the standard procedure for comparing and evaluating non-deterministic algorithms?